

Professional Development for Faculty

EVENTS Instructional Skills Workshops for Faculty

June 28, July 11, 12, 13 & 14 | In-person

July 14, August 2, 3, 5 & 9 | In-person

This workshop series focuses on giving new and experienced educators an opportunity to try new teaching approaches, and to sharpen existing skills in a supportive atmosphere.

To learn more, visit ctlit.ubc.ca/fisw

New Faculty Teaching Orientation: Making Connections

August 16 | 10:00 am-12:00 pm | In-person & Online

This one day orientation at UBCV serves as a space for new faculty to become more effective teachers and strengthen efforts to forge significant transformative learning experiences for students.

To learn more, visit ctlit.ubc.ca/nfto

Journey into Course Design

July 11 & 13 | In-person

This two-part workshop, offers participants an opportunity to journey through three stages of course design: reflecting on situational factors, writing learning outcomes, and exploring assessment options and instructional strategies to support learners. Come prepared with a course to re/design or a project.

To learn more, visit ctlit.ubc.ca/jicd

Teaching Development Program for New Faculty

August 23, 2022-April 29, 2023 | In-person & Online

This flexible 10-month program helps new faculty build a foundation for their teaching careers by providing a network of support as well as professional development opportunities focused on teaching practices.

To learn more, visit ctlit.ubc.ca/tdp

RESOURCES Introduction to Online Teaching

This self-paced course walks participants through recommended, evidence-based practices to use when preparing for and teaching online. Videos, readings, activities, and just-in-time checklists help participants apply these practices to their specific contexts.

To learn more, visit ctlit.ubc.ca/ito

Respect, Sincerity & Responsibility: Land Acknowledgements @ UBC

This self-paced course covers foundational knowledge about what a land acknowledgment is and why we do them, and guides the participant to develop their own personalized land acknowledgement.

To learn more, visit ctlit.ubc.ca/rsr